Yoga: From Vedic Origins to Western Transplantation.
Edwin Bryant
16:840:521:01 (Cross-listed with 01:840:321:01)
Tuesday/Thursday 3:20 p.m. – 4:40 p.m. (5th period)
Beck Hall Building, Room 251, Livingston Campus.
Office hours Tuesday 1.45 – 2.45 PM
(and by appointment before or after class).

Course Description.
This course will undertake a close reading of Yoga as presented in the traditional Hindu sourcebook on the subject, the 3rd century Yoga Sutras, where it is defined as the stilling of all states of mind (meditative practices). The Yoga Sutras is the classical text on meditative practice accepted as authoritative by all the orthodox Hindu schools, and our reading of it will be informed by the primary commentaries that have elaborated on the source text over the centuries prior to the colonial period. The course will additionally trace the development of representations of Yoga from these pre-modern expressions, through its appropriation and reconfiguring by Hindu nationalists, and into its modern Western transplanted form as primarily postural exercise.

Students will read a section of the primary source text the Yoga Sutras of Patanjali for the first month with a view to obtaining a grounding in the pre-modern metaphysics and practice of Yoga. The remaining two months of the course will chart the development of notions associated with Yoga culminating in some of its present western transplanted forms.

Course objectives.
The course has two main objectives. The first is to expose students to the classical Hindu source on contemplative practices (and thus contribute will be a foundational course for one of the academic tracks of the MA program, namely, Contemplative Studies). The second is intended to equip students with an exposure to how religious phenomenon are adapted and transformed by social, cultural and political circumstances, sometimes enormously.

Course Requirements.
Students will be required to make weekly presentations on the subject matter, thus preparing them for participation at future conferences and panels. They will be expected to submit 10 page paper, which will afford them an opportunity to undertake a focused written research project. Additionally, the students will be assessed by class participation and three quizzes. Students will be assessed and graded as follows: class participation and chapter presentations (10%); mid-term exam (20%); two quizzes, 15 points each (30%); research paper (40%). A 7 page paper writing guide is provided all students containing comprehensive instructions on research paper writing.
Required Reading

This book exposes the student to classical Hindu Yoga, the goal of which is an experience of content-less consciousness, along with its accompanying practices and presuppositions, as transmitted over a period of 1500 years prior to the pre-colonial period, drawing on the main pre-modern commentaries over this period. We will spend 5 weeks on this book.

This book traces some of the earliest formative influences feeding into the transformation of Yoga from its traditional origins into its modern commodified forms. Some of the occult practices of late 18th century Europe that were formative in this process, and the main Hindu apologists and nationalists instrumental in the creating of modern notions of Yoga are examined. We will spend 2 weeks on this book

This book highlights the lack of any evidence in traditional Indian sources for the health and fitness orientated practices that are associated with Yoga today. The book argues that the popular modern yoga has more to do with British gymnastics and body-building than any ancient Indian yoga tradition, and examines how yoga became the hugely popular phenomenon it is today. We will spend 2 weeks on this book

This edited volume examines the history, characteristics, and constructions of Hinduism presented to the West by nine prominent guru figures, who travelled to the West with a view to transplanting Hindu teachings and culture from the 60’s to the present. We will spend 2 weeks on this book

Recommended Reading.
Alter, Joseph S Yoga in Modern India Princeton: Princeton University Press, 2004
Strauss, Sarah Positioning Yoga Oxford: Berg, 2005
Syman, Stephanie The Story of Yoga in America New York: Farrar, Straus and Giroux, 2010
Singleton, Mark and Byren, Jean, eds Yoga in the Modern World London;Routledge, 2008
Week I.
Tue/Thur Sept 3rd-5th
Introduction to the course. Discussion in class examining the earliest pre-Patanjalian expressions on Yoga prior to the common era. The metaphysical, epistemological, ethical and soteriological backdrop of Yoga. Patanjali Chapter I.1-4: the definition and goal of classical Yoga

Week II.
Tue/Thur Sept 10th-12th
Patanjali chapter 1. The conventional states of mind; samadhi: The six progressive stages of the stilled mind; the seventh Samadhi state beyond mind. Isvara: the theistic element in the Sutras.

Week III.
Tue/Thur Sept 17th-19th
Patanjali Chapter I continued. Chapter 2. The klesas: suffering, karma and reincarnation.

Week IV.
Tue/Thur Sept 24th-26th
Patanjali Chapter II continued. The eight limbs of Yoga

Week V.
Tue/Thur Oct 1st-3rd
Patanjali Chapter III. The mystic powers.

Week VI.
Tue/Thur Oct 8th-10th
Patanjali Chapter IV. Yoga’s response to the Buddhist challenge. Mid-term exam.

Week VII.
Tue/Thur Oct 15th-17th
De Michelis: part I, chapters 1-4. Indian exposures to Western esotericisms and mysticisms; Raja Ram Mohan Roy and the Brahmo Samaj, Vivedananda and neo-Vedanta.

Week VIII.
Tue/Thur Oct 22nd-24th
De Michelis part II. chapters 5-8. Vivekananda’s Raja Yoga, alternative medicine, the Iyengar School of Yoga.
Week IX.
Tue/Thur Oct 29th-31st
Singleton: Chapters 1-4. Colonials, ‘jogis,’ fakirs, and the social marginalization of the yogi; the International Physical Culture Movement.

Week X.
Tue/Thur Nov 5th-7th

Week XI.
Tue/Thur Nov 12th-14th

Week XII.
Tue/Thur Nov 19th-21st

Week XIII
Tue/Thur Nov 26th-28th
There is no class on Thursday due to Thanksgiving.

Week XIV
Tue/Thur Dec 3rd-5th
Tue, QUIZ II
Thursday, Concluding Discussions.

Week XIV
Tue Dec 10th Student presentation of their papers.

ALL FINAL PAPERS DUE THE LAST DAY OF READING PERIOD, Dec 13th 5.00 PM. Loree 108, Douglass Campus. Hard copies must be delivered, no electronic copies.